MADE TO MEASURE SUIT

The art of Mens tailoring is a tradition we are passionate about preserving. At our Christchurch and Queenstown stores, we can now offer customers made to measure suits, jackets, coats, waistcoats and trousers – all crafted with the same careful attention to detail as our ready-made garments.

Our fabrics are all imported and we carry an exclusive range from Europe's premium fabric mills with over 400 different fabrics to select from the choice is more about what not to order! One of the mills we order fabrics from sourced their wool exclusively from the south Island high country of New Zealand.

Our suits and coats are made to fit your shape with precision, then hand finished by our tailor based in Christchurch. To complement your new suit or coat, we also offer an exclusive shirt tailoring service, all hand made in New Zealand. Using the very best of European cottons, we craft shirts with individualised body fits, cuff and collar styles.

Artbay Gallery

SERPENS, THE HEALER BY ELAN

This work by Elan is being gifted by the artist and ArtBay Gallery.

A modern day globally recognised logo of medicine features a snake coiled around a staff. The image comes from a legendary association with Asclepius, the ancient Greek god of medicine and healing. Ancient Greeks revered Asclepius for his amazing skills in healing and medicine. It was believed that the snake possessed benevolent properties and was able to cure a patient or a wounded person just by touch.

Cardrona Distillery

THE CARDRONA FAMILY RESERVE TOUR

This exclusive experience will further your whisky tasting skills, while providing you with deep insight into Whisky maturation. You will be hosted by a passionate, expert member of our distillery team. Our time will focus deeply upon warehousing and maturation. You will have the special privilege of tasting spirit directly from cask, and then selecting and personally hand-filling your own exclusive bottle of single cask Cardrona Single Malt Whisky, from a choice of three exceptional casks preselected from our stocks. We will explore the impact temperature, foods and texture have on the Whisky drinking experience.

VALUE: $700.00 / PACKAGE VALUE: $2,600.00

5. BEO

ENERGY MODELING SERVICE

Building Energy Modeling is a powerful and versatile tool used in the field of architecture, engineering, and construction to assess and optimise the energy performance of buildings. It is an indispensable part of sustainable design and construction, enabling professionals to make informed decisions regarding heating, cooling, ventilation, material selection, and overall energy efficiency.

What is Building Energy Modeling?

Building Energy Modeling is a computer-based simulation technique that replicates the energy-related behavior of a building over its total floor area, or per m². It involves creating a virtual representation of a building's physical characteristics, such as its layout, materials, HVAC (Heating, Ventilation, and Air Conditioning) systems, and occupancy patterns. This virtual model is then used to analyse and predict the building's energy consumption, thermal comfort, and environmental impact.
